WILL COX AND PRES. WILSON SPLIT ON THE MAIN ISSUES?

Republicans Watching the White House Meeting Tomorrow With the Keenest Interest

A VITAL CONFERENCE

Harding Receives Assurances From East and West That Former Progressives Are In Line

MARION, July 17.—The interests of Republican leaders here are centered today on the outcome of the conference to be held tomorrow between President Wilson and Governor Cox, the Democratic nominee.

There is much speculation as to whether the two will reach an agreement on the campaign issues. President Wilson's friends are insisting that the league of nations shall be the paramount issue of the Democratic campaign. It is assumed that they are speaking for the president. Admittedly, President Wilson insisted that the Democratic platform should carry a vindication of his league and a demand for its ratification without "nullifying" reservations.

Governor Cox has announced two reservations that he desires to see written into the draft of the league covenant. He says they are designed to safeguard the United States against being drawn into war without action by congress.

League experts here say there is little substantive difference between the league reservations proposed by Gov. Cox and those written by Senator Lodge which incurred the condemnation of President Wilson.

It is said by Republican leaders that should Cox yield to President Wilson on support of the league covenant as presented to the Senate he will lose many Democratic votes and alienate the anti-Wilson leaders who brot about his nomination over the administration candidate, William G. McAdoo. These leaders are Murphy, New York; Brennan, Chicago; Taggart, Indiana; and others.

If Gov. Cox should break with President Wilson by failing to accept all the Wilsonian ideas he will incur the active and bitter hostility of the president and his powerful following in the Democratic party.

The Sunday meeting between the president and Gov. Cox, Republicans say, is critical and marks a crisis in the presidential campaign. Its results therefore, are being awaited with the keenest interest by all the Republican leaders who are connected with the Harding headquarters.

Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican presidential nominee, has been house-bound by work during the past week. He is losing much of the healthy can be accumulated during the days in Washington following his nomination when he sought relaxation on the golf links. His friends are urging him to break away again from the treadmill of work and get out into the open in order to build up and conserve his strength. He may follow their advice for a few days next week. The golf links at Mansfield, a few miles away, are calling him.

Assurances of support for the Republican ticket from progressives are coming in daily to the Senator, Paul A. Ewert, of Joplin, Mo., and Frank T. Ellison, of Rochester, N. Y., are among the latest to write him. In reply to a telegram from Ellison which stated that at a meeting of progressives the Republican ticket was endorsed. The Senator wrote: "I desire to send my grateful appreciation of your assuring message which is but additional evidence that the Republican party this year is united in a great purpose of rescuing this country from its present deplorable condition, insuring the return to a stable peace basis, and the establishment of a thoroughly American policy that thinks of our own people first."

To Allen B. Jaynes and Albert M. Sames, leading Arizona Republicans, the Senator sent the following message: "It will be a great satisfaction next November to see your state in the Republican column. A united party and united effort should insure this result."

LLOYD GEORGE SAYS AMERICA OUGHT TO HAVE BORNE A PART IN SPA CONFERENCE

Much Was Gained He Declares, But Much More Could Have Been Done With U. S. Helping

TELLS WHAT THEY DID

Says Germany's Biggest Job Will Not Be to Dig the Coal, But to Enforce Disarmament

By Newton C. Parke, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.

SPA, BELGIUM, July 17.—"We have accomplished much during the Spa conference, but it would have been better if the United States had acted as an impartial participant," declared Premier Lloyd George before leaving for London today.

The British premier was apparently well satisfied with the result of the discussions, which came to an end last night when the Germans signed the allied coal protocol pledging themselves to deliver to the allies 2,000,000 tons of coal monthly for a specified time.

When Mr. Lloyd George was asked where the next conference of the allied foreign ministers would be held he laughed as he replied:

"Washington would be a good place but they tell me it is pretty hot there in summer. I should prefer Deauville myself."

Premier Lloyd George believes that the German government will have a more difficult time enforcing the disarmament protocol than the coal protocol. Both call for quick action on the part of the Berlin government as both are effective at once.

The premier said he believed that the present government at Berlin is absolutely sincere in its determination to execute the treaty of Versailles but expressed some fears that the present German government might not last long.

"At any rate we shall get the coal even if we have to go get it ourselves," added the British statesman.

Four main subjects were taken up during the conference:

1. Disarmament of Germany.
2. Delivery of German coal.
3. Indemnity.
4. Trials of German war offenders.

Germany signed the disarmament and coal protocols while the war criminal trials and indemnity were referred to commissions. Several times the conference was on the breaking point and on Wednesday night the allies went so far as to threaten the Germans with an ultimatum calling for the occupation of the Ruhr district with allied armies.

The Germans pointed out that Germany's position is difficult owing to the great increase in the amount of floating currency which makes it increasingly hard for her to meet her national debt. It was declared that the allies must see to it that she has the means to recover sufficiently to pay her external obligations. The Germans were said to be attempting to take advantage of the Russian victories over Poland but the allies held firm to their own terms. Arrangements will be worked out to extend Germany credits in connection with the coal deliveries so that larger supplies of food can be secured for the workers in the German coal fields.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS SUBJECT OF DEBATE

COLUMBUS, July 17.—Vigorous applause was given by members of the National Women's Association of Commerce to statements made by debaters of the league of nations issue.

Opposing the Wilsonian plan for a league of nations, John F. Carlisle, Columbus, declared that the league means a world aristocracy, not a democracy.

"The league of nations is the best vehicle yet offered to work out the ideal for which we fought," was the reply of Forrest F. Smith, Columbus, who defended the league of the nations covenant.

"Wilson not only kept us out of war, but kept us out of peace," declared Carlisle. "We made one autocrat whip another. Ours still hangs on. The other is in Holland."

Divorce Is Foreign To Average Person's Conception Of Life, Says Probate Judge

The average person is slow to seek a divorce even under the most adverse conditions of domestic tranquility, according to Probate Judge Milo C. Ely.

Practically every petitioner who comes before the court feels he has been driven beyond the point of possible endurance and that every hope of reconciliation has faded, the judge observed.

"And even then, fully a third of the cases filed end with the estranged partners kissing and making up," he added with a smile.

YACHT RACE IS LATE STARTING DUE TO A DEAD CALM ON OCEAN

Water Around the Ambrose Lightship, Starting Point, Unruffled By the Slightest Breeze

IMMENSE CROWD OUT

Weather Sharks Say Sufficient Wind Will Spring Up Later to Start the Race

ABOARD THE U. S. S. GOLDSBOROUGH OFF SANDY HOOK, N. J., Via Wireless, July 17.—The start of today's race between Resolute, American cup defender and Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock IV, was postponed because of dead calm that existed at 11 a. m. (Eastern standard time) the hour originally set for the race to start.

Both Shamrock and Resolute had been towed to the Ambrose Lightship, the starting point. There was not enough breeze to cause a ripple on the water.

At 10:30 a. m. the regatta committee hoisted the "G" signal flag on its boats. This was the announcement that the start of the race had been postponed until later in the day.

At that time the yachts were getting in position for the start. Captain Burton and Designer Nicholson of Shamrock had taken a small boat and were rowing around the challenger, carefully inspecting every sail.

At 10:45 a. m. a stray zephyr came in from the south which gave the yachts just steering way but was not enough to warrant starting the race.

The air at the Ambrose channel lightship at 10 a. m. was absolutely lifeless. Both yachts drifted about under stray catpaws which did not have power enough to even ruffle the sea. A long, sleepy roll from the southeast rolled them gently while overhead aeroplanes and seaplanes darted about and dirigible balloons floated lazily thru the sky.

The spectator fleet was larger than on Thursday while the decks of the Victoria were crowded with guests of Sir Thomas Lipton.

The Corsair, flagship of the New York yacht club also carried a heavy passenger list and the excursion boats were crowded to capacity.

Weather prophets at 11:15 predicted that the wind would spring up later in the day from the southeast or the southwest.

Under the sailing directions the Regatta committee had the power to postpone the race until later in the day. The rules provide however, that the Regatta committee must hoist the "G" signal, indicating a postponement of the race, every 15 minutes. The yellow pennant with its blue tail went up the trilateral stay of the committee boat at 10:30 a. m. and was still up at 11 a. m.

The committee is empowered to postpone the race until six hours before sunset.

The defender, Resolute, with new and staunch throat, halyards is as spick and span as ever and her skipper and crew hope to demonstrate before sundown that the white sloop does not even need the time allowance granted her by Shamrock IV.

The time allowance has been worked out once again. H. De B. Parsons, chairman of the race committee of the New York yacht club announced that following new measurements of the Shamrock which reduced her rating from 94.4 to 93.08, the time allowance has been definitely set at 6 minutes and 40 seconds.

The second race today was scheduled to be sailed over a triangular course. The length of the race will be 30 miles, 10 miles to a leg.

This is the sort of contest that should, and probably will, bring out all points of sailing qualities of the two yachts and if the prediction of a mild breeze holds true this race should be much to the liking of Resolute.

If possible the yachts will be sent away on the windward leg of the triangle, and then the remaining two legs, if nothing happens in the weather market to interfere with the usual method of sailing such a race, will be a close reach and a broad reach, or a run before the wind.

The very latest modes in sails of all kinds were expected to be flashed by the rival yachts in today's race, from main sails, jibs, stay sails, top sails and spinnakers to balloons.

FAMINE IN CEMENT HOLDS UP WORK ON PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

A cement famine is holding up county and state road and bridge construction in Coshocton-co, according to County Surveyor Ross Hamilton. The same condition prevails all over the state and in many other states of the Union. The priority order, specifying what kind of freight, may be shipped in the different kinds of cars, and the locomotive shortage.

It is almost impossible to buy cement in any quantity in the local market, and very little is being received by local dealers.

Among the big jobs that are being held up on account of the lack of cement are the monolithic brick paving between Tyndal and Conesville being done by Dunsweiler; the concrete road between Randles Bridge and Tyndal being done by Henderson Brothers; and the monolithic brick road between West Lafayette and Wagner's Corner being built by T. J. Norman & Son.

Besides these three big jobs there are numerous culverts on which work has been stopped or has not been begun.

The resurfacing work on the Warsaw road between Haines' Bridge and Warsaw is continuing, the state having changed the source of the material from Blissfield to a county gravel pit.

RAISIN JACK SPREE COSTS LOCALS $45

Ray Jennings and Everett Moore entered pleas of guilty before Mayor Tish late Friday on charges of transporting liquor and intoxication in Jennings' case and intoxication in the case of Moore. Jennings was fined $25 on the first charge and $10 on the second. Moore was fined $10. Both paid and were released.

The two men were picked up Friday morning soon after getting off Pennsylvania train No. 34, in an intoxicated condition. Jennings clung to the story that he had picked up a quart bottle of raisin jack before leaving the train, and it was impossible for the mayor to shake his story.

Elwell Was Not In Whiskey Ring

CINCINNATI, July 17.—Investigation conducted by Thomas E. Stone, Baltimore, supervising federal prohibition agent, failed to reveal evidence of any illegal transactions in connection with the so-called "whiskey ring" in this section of Joseph B. Elwell, New York sportsman and whilst expert mysteriously murdered several weeks ago.

"No reports or investigations in the Ohio-Maryland division of the federal prohibition enforcement service have connected Elwell's name in any manner," Col. Stone said. "I understand that investigations in New York have shown no basis for the suspicion."

Colonel Stone is in Columbus today to confer with the group heads of the various branch offices of the division.

OHIOANS IN CAL. TO TAKE A STRAW VOTE ON LEADERS

LOS ANGELES CALIF., July 17.—What is probably to be the first test of strength by Ohioans of its presidential candidates, Governor James M. Cox and Senator Warren G. Harding, will be made here this afternoon when a "straw" vote of between 10,000 and 15,000 people will be taken at the Ohio state picnic being held today at Sycamore Grove.

Ideal weather marked the day for the picnic which was expected to be the biggest yet held in Southern California, where they are annual events. The added interest of a political situation and the fact that it is what the Ohioans here term a "ratification" picnic to celebrate Ohio's "signal honor in giving to the nation its two prominent presidential candidates," and to "ratify" those candidates.

Col. John J. Stedman, for years a leader in Republican politics in Ohio, will offer the Harding resolutions of ratification and a prominent Ohio Democrat, not yet chosen, will be called upon to offer resolutions endorsing Governor Cox.

Kenyon Warren, president of the Federated Ohio Societies of Southern California, comprising many thousand members, and Lieutenant Frank M. Bering, secretary, will preside at the picnic program, which includes a number of political speeches by Ohioans formerly identified with Buckeye politics.

HEAVY FIGHTING NEAR ADRIANOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 17.—Heavy fighting has broken out near Adrianople in Thrace, according to a report reaching British headquarters today. Adrianople has been cut off from communication with the outside world since Thursday night.

It is probable that the battle mentioned in the foregoing cablegram is between Greek and Turkish Nationalist troops. The Greeks recently put an army of occupation in Thrace. There have been persistent reports, however that the Bulgarians were mobilizing and preparing to resist the advance of the Greek occupation in Thrace. Part of Thrace was held by Bulgaria before the world war.

CAPITAL WILL SHOW COX IT'S DELIGHTED TO SEE HIM BACK

Washington People Will Extend Non-Partisan Welcome to the Democratic Standard Bearer

TO SEE VIC MURDOCK

Governor Will Confer With Head of Fed. Trade Com. Concerning High Cost of Living

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, Democratic candidate for the presidency is scheduled to arrive here early this afternoon for a conference with President Wilson at the White House tomorrow.

Washington has planned to give the Governor a whole hearted, non-partisan reception. City officials and residents of the District of Columbia will join with the large number of Democratic leaders who have arrived in the city during the past few days of welcoming him. Members of all factions of the party are here, and a unanimous calling list will be presented at the home of Judge Timothy T. Ansberry, where Governor Cox will stay while in the city.

Aside from his engagement with the president, set for 10:30 Sunday morning, the Governor has two appointments, both of his own choosing. One is with Victor Murdock, chairman of the federal trade commission, with whom he is expected to talk over the question of the high cost of living and determine the course he will take on this question during the campaign.

The other is with Representative Flood of Virginia head of the Democratic congressional committee and one of the Cox supporters at the San Francisco convention. Senator Glass, also of Virginia, and representative of the administration at San Francisco is not expected to be in the city during the Cox visit.

While every possible moment of the candidate's time here will be devoted to the furtherance of interests of the campaign it is expected that most of the conferences at the Ansberry home will be in a general nature.

Campaign plans will be taken up in detail following the meeting of the Democratic national committee. The meeting with representative Flood will be devoted to weighing chances for Democratic control in the house.

Governor Cox has expressed his views on the league of nations. The White House has intimated that nothing but harmony is to be expected on this score. Democratic leaders here believe, however, that considerable discussion is in the offing if a definite program of reservations is to be approved at the Sunday conference.

Governor Cox expressed a desire to unite every faction of the Democratic party. An out and out approval of the league of nations would not work to that end, leaders contend, and the line of conjunction but not the interpretative reservations approved by President Wilson and the views of "irreconcilables" may be difficult to draw in a forenoon.

Those who have seen the president since the San Francisco convention assert he has shown no disposition to take water "on his league of nations stand and will not."

The White House will not take any part in the reception of the Governor, according to the present plans and will but await his arrival Sunday morning.

Governor Cox will devote a considerable portion of his speech of acceptance to the high cost of living as being of equal interest with the league of nations in the hearts of the American electorate is that to be indicated by his engagement with Victor Murdock, chairman of the federal trade commission.

Shortly after his arrival Gov. Cox will meet Mr. Murdock and go into conference with him at the home of Judge Ansberry.

At this conference it is expected that Murdock will provide the presidential nominee with many facts and figures dealing with the cost of living problem for use in his speech of acceptance and for later use in his campaign.

Mr. Murdock admitted today that he expected to see Gov. Cox but declined to go into details. "I am an old friend of the Governor," said Murdock. "We served together in congress and became very close friends. I will, of course, do everything possible to aid in his election."

NO one who loves the sea and seamanlike qualities, and has in his soul the proper reverence for skill and workmanship, can help being keenly interested in yacht racing. Machinery does next to nothing in these contests. The test is of a sort that every builder and skipper of sailing vessels from the earliest days might easily understand. A sailing yacht is a glorified shingle in a puddle. What is added is the imagination of a builder, the touch of caressing hammers, saws, and planes, and the trained instincts of a captain and helmsman who can read the wind and water as easily as most of us read our newspapers.

But, as the layman soon finds out, the game is greatly complicated by the rules adopted by the yachting clubs for securing what they consider a fair race. Some days ago the Resolute and Shamrock IV. were hauled out of the water and carefully gone over with measuring sticks and lines, and for several days last week Professor Harold W. Webb of Columbia University was busy with his abstruse mathematics trying to learn what handicap, if any, should be given to either yacht. In other words, it is not absolute speed that is allowed to count, but speed that can be attained within certain limits of construction, other than length of keel, laid down by the yachting clubs. The conclusion was that the Shamrock IV. had to be allowed to cross the line several minutes ahead of the Resolute, in which case the race may be won by the slower boat.

Amateur yachtsmen have often proposed that the sole requisite be the water-line length, with whatever superstructure of bow, stern, mast and sail the maker cares to pile on. If there is too much beam the boat is heavy, if too little it is difficult to manage; if there is too great a sail area the boat may be keeled over and so lose headway; if too little it will be too slow. These are nature's regulations. Why do yacht clubs make rules of their own to take the edge off a noble sport? Surely yachtsmen ought to have confidence enough in their elements to know that, if they let the rules go and build for speed they will not produce monstrosities. The rules as they stand seem to forbid experiment and adventure in yacht building.

About The Crops

EVEN the man who never saw a field of wheat, and doesn't know the difference between the spring and winter varieties, is vaguely comforted by the report of the Department of Agriculture on the prospects for this year's crop. It is going to be a good year for the farmer, despite the election, if only the supply of hired men comes near the demand. The greatest gambling game of the ages turns out well in this particular twelve-month. The gods and the weather have been propitious, and we are offered 112,000,000 pounds of tobacco more than we had to smoke and chew in 1919, 11,000,000 more bushels of rice, 28,000,000 more bushels of wheat, and of oats, barley, and rye substantial gains.

All this is subject to change without notice, and every estimate is likely to shrink before the actual harvest, but the variation is not likely to be great, considering the huge territory covered. A series of hailstorms may cut the heart out of North Dakota's wheat, black rust may strike Kansas, and Iowa may be so wet that corn cultivation is impossible. South Dakota and Montana may suffer from drought, and western Pennsylvania may have the season bitten off short by an anachronistic frost. A few misfortunes there must be, balanced in whole or in part by good fortune in adjacent regions. As a whole the crop will come out according to forecast.

It is too bad that individual farmers must take the loss and gain without sharing up. Hail and drought and rust are unavoidable, more so than fire. A nation so large as our own could afford to insure its farmers against complete loss by these outside calamities. If the soil were less of a gamble there might be more farmers and less city dwellers among us.

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 17.—It was my good fortune one day recently to explore the Spanish colony in Manhattan with Blasco Ibanez, the Spanish novelist and a group of other writers. The compensation for living in New York is its sudden surprises. One may turn the corner and find an alien world in the backyard.

New York's Spain is on Christopher Street. Cadiz and Barcelona are reproduced—the great, red-tiled towns of the Iberian Peninsula. There are Spanish banks and stores, Spanish jewelers, barber shops, tailors, Spanish cafe and billiard rooms.

The signs of the district give a distinct foreign tang. "Posada Latina" one reads, or "Sastrea Espanola." Thru a curtained shop window it is possible to have a glimpse of Old World products. There is the straight-backed barber chairs of Spain that are a torture to those used to reclining comfortably.

A short distance below the foot of Christopher Street are the docks. There are tim boats that run down the Chilean coast. Swagging sailors with jet black hair and aquiline features abound in this neighborhood. About the only thing they dislike about America is their inability to get a vine. In this connection I saw a sign on the window of a foreigner's cafe. It read: "Puro California Grape Juice." Below it was another announcement, that the store sold raisins.

In the evening the Spanish quarter begins to pulsate with life. The pretty women are out on the stoop, black and olive complexioned and lovely. The dishes clatter in the tiled cafes and the billiard balls click merrily in the Posada Latina.

After dinner the diners come out to park their coffee along the sidewalk and cut yellow-tinted Spanish pastries. Many of the girls wear heavy ear rings and jewelry is a common luxury. I noticed five jewelry shops in one block. The population is composed of diverse races of the Spanish world—Catalans, Cortillans, Chilians, Argentines. They are united by that strong bond between people of common language on an alien shore.

WALT MASON

WASTED ENERGY

For many, many weeks to come the orators, brave souls, will knock the walkin' out of plumb and shoot it full of holes. Wherever there is a stump or keg some orator will rise and talk until he breaks a leg, disfigures his truth and lies. The men with me eyes will spill the picnic in the dirt and when we'd fain go forth to tell they'll find us with a spell. If all their energy and steam were put to sawing wood, high prices soon would be a dream and prospects would be cool. We need strong men to guide the plow and see the pumpkins humped, but all the husky fellows now are busy, ditching wind. If every man who speaks a piece would grow some wheat instead of one profiteering graft would cease and we'd have cheaper bread. If every man who takes the stump, our bulwarks to defend, would grab a hoe and blithely hump, another graft would end. For weeks and weeks the ancient tunes will in our ears, be dinna, and when we plead for wholesome prunes, they'll merely hand us wind. The energy that's thrown away by orators, oh, cheer! If it were put to baling hay, where would our problems be?

are brazenly bold steal knives from their fair partners. There is no alternative for them. They must give up their table and the cover charge is refunded. Holding hands at tables is also barred. The park benches are also watched by policemen for spooners. The only place spooning is permitted in New York is on the Fifth Avenue busses. There love's young dream rolls along without harsh interruptions.

There are many ways to beat the high cost of living in this town. One way is seen in the big trucks going home around five o'clock. They are filled with workers on their way home. The drivers seem glad to furnish this means of transportation and in some cases stop at corners to collect the free passengers. The passengers are not confined to young boys. There are pretty stenographers, saleswomen, middle aged men who have an air of prosperity. Aside from saving the fare it is faster. So widespread is this practice that some of the transportation companies have investigation out to see if the drivers collect fares. Up to date no one has been found. It is just the spirit of helping the other fellow.

MOTOR CLUBS LAUNCH HIGHWAY CONSERVATION MOVEMENT

A movement to conserve the highway resources of the state has been undertaken by the Ohio State Automobile Association.

This movement is directed in several channels: toward preserving the present roads, toward a better system of maintenance, and toward an improved financial program. At the recent state convention in Zanesville resolutions were adopted demanding enforcement of the law regarding weight of loads and speed and at the same time calling attention to the need for devoting in the future greater attention to maintaining the roads as well as to spending large sums for new construction.

Plans for putting a campaign along this line into effect were outlined at a subsequent meeting of the board of trustees of the state motor organization in Cleveland, at which there was also authorized removal of state headquarters from Cleveland to Columbus.

It was brought out that the present horsepower tax law is not bringing to rural communities the large sums anticipated for highway maintenance and amendments to the act will be recommended.

President F. E. Bentley of Warren has appointed the following committee to direct the organization's legislative activities: Walter D. Meals, Cleveland, chairman; Fred H. Caley, Cleveland; W. H. Loller, Youngstown; W. S. Thurston, Toledo; Howard C. Allen, Washington; Charles C. Jones, J. L. Will, Columbus, and M. B. Morrissey, Bucyrus.

TAD, CARTOONIST OF FAME TELLS OF YACHT RACE

By Tad, Written for the I N S. NEW YORK, July 16.—A yachting editor only works about once in 17 years, but when he works he works. He's a literary earthquake.

Yesterday I was a yachting editor. Climbed out of the bay at 6 00 a. m., put on the feed bag in a bum dump, grabbed the still line down to the battery and boarded the old newspaper tug at 8 00 in a very, very wet rain storm.

We scooted down the bay towards Sandy Hook and ran right up to the Shamrock. Pretty little thing, pea green hull and crew all in white. On pretty, pretty.

About a mile away towards the shore was the Resolute with hull painted white and looking like a toy boat.

On our boat the hooch hounds were busy at 9 00 o'clock hunting up the wet spots. One guy had snake cure and had more birds after him than Nicky Arnstein ever had.

The experts told us that the Shamrock "broke out" with her job topsail. It's a great game this yachting. They say it's the real sport of kings. It's tough the kings are diving out so fast.

We were trailing the yachts and wondering who was ahead. They looked to be on even terms but the experts told us to the second how far the Shamrock was behind. It's a gift.

As the scribes were putting on the feed bag the gaff of the Resolute broke. The gaff is the thing—it's that—better look it up in a book. Pic-

"Pinweight" Champion Carries Mighty Wallop

BOSTON, July 17.—Altho only as big as the point of a pin, he's got an awful wallop. He is called trichogramma-minutumn and he is the parasite that is putting the European corn borer to rout in this state. This little cheap with the funny name can scarcely be seen by the naked eye. He attacks the eggs of the corn borer and is doing a fine job, according to R. Harold Allen of the State Department of Agriculture.

Says City Needs Fire Fighters

That the downtown fire station No. 2 is of little or no value as a fire protection to the city was the assertion of an attaché of the municipal government Saturday. He blames the lack of a sufficient fire fighting personnel.

"We would be just as well off with Ford roadster, in Station No. 2 as a fire truck," he declared. "All this station can do is to answer calls west of the railroad by rushing to the scene of the fire and putting in a call from here for the truck from the Walnut station. There is only one man at the Main station, and he cannot string a hose alone."

Infant Falls from Second Story; Laughs

CONCORDIA, KAN., July 17.—Albert Lee, nine-months-old baby boy of this place, bids fair to become a tumbling star when he "grows up." Losing his balance, the tot plunged from a second story window of his parents' home here the other day, bounced off the porch and was giving vent to vigorous "goos" when found by his mother.

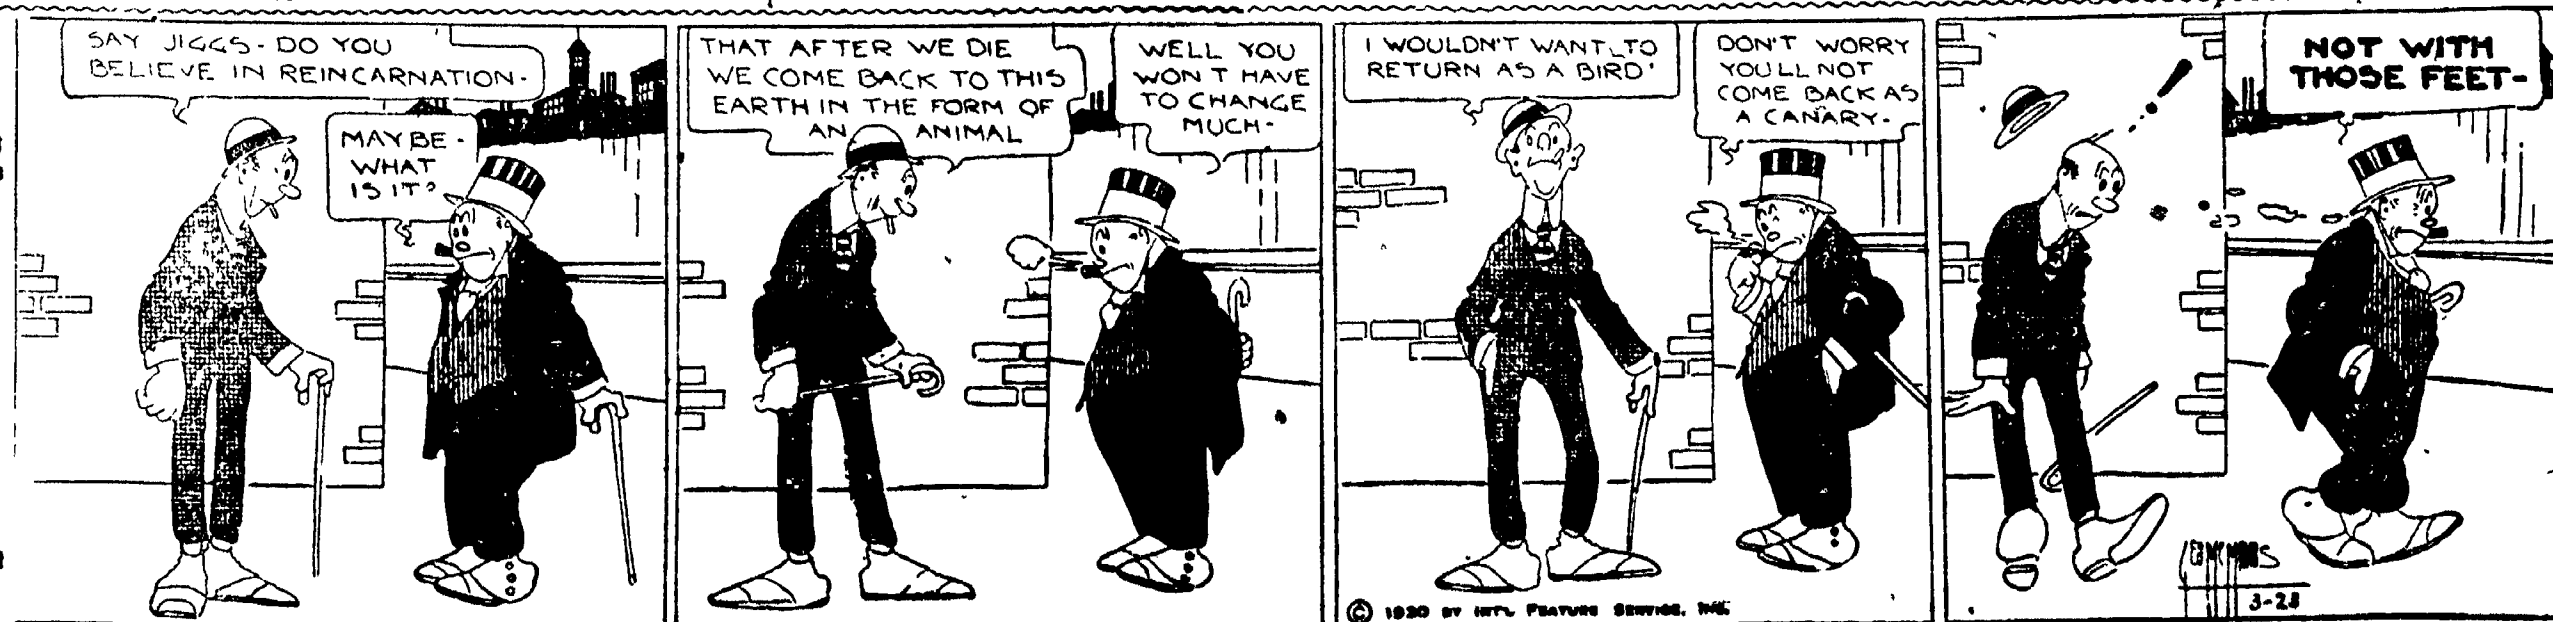

Oooo—That's Awful!

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., July 17.—Oooo! Tony the bootblack twisted his mouth. And Tony the bootblack opened his eyes wide. Feminine patrons in his shop cast furtive glances, shielded their eyes with papers and fans and then turned a scornful nose toward Springfield's most daring fashion follower. She tripped into a popular shoe shining parlor sans stockings, a la Paris style, got a shine, paid for it, and tripped out again, dashed a glinting pair of ankles as she left.

COX GETS BUSY

COLUMBUS, July 17.—Gov. Cox this afternoon promised to dedicate himself, in the effort to put Tennessee over as the 36th state for women suffrage. He came out unqualifiedly and asked Alice Paul, leader of the suffragist delegation, to appoint a committee with which he will co-operate in devising ways and means to put the federal suffrage amendment thru in a special session of the Tennessee legislature convenes on August 9.

SPA, Belgium, July 16.—New counter proposals dealing with the delivery of coal by Germany to the allies were presented to the allied statesmen by the German delegation early today. They were considered at a meeting of the allied premiers during the morning, when separate conferences were held by the allied and German statesmen.

Premier De La Croix of Belgium, presiding officer at the Spa conference, announced that the Germans would be called in at 4 o'clock this afternoon to give their final answer to the allies. The original plan had called for a joint session of the allied and German delegates at noon.

Confusion and some mystery have surrounded the coal discussions since Wednesday night, when it was reported that the Germans, under the threat of an allied ultimatum decided to accept the allies terms providing for the delivery of 2,000,000 tons of coal monthly. The allied ultimatum was said to have threatened to occupy the Ruhr district unless the Germans accepted the allied terms by noon Thursday. The Germans in the meantime made a counter offer to the allies accepting the allied terms under certain conditions. It was declared last night that the Germans had again been given an extension of time until noon today to accept the allies terms. The fate of the German conditions was not made plain. Then followed the latest development—the new counter offer by the Germans early today. There are indications that dissensions have developed in the German delegation over the allied coal proposal which may have influenced the allies in granting the Germans more time for discussions among themselves.

The talk of an ultimatum has dwindled since Thursday morning and Dr. Walter von Simons, the German foreign secretary, denied that any ultimatum had been handed the Teutonic delegation.

After the meeting of the allied premiers broke up it was announced that the new German counter plan had been refused. A fresh proposal providing for the acceptance of German coal at the German market price was then presented to the Germans. The allied statesmen were said to be in complete agreement that the military occupation of Germany would be extended to the Ruhr Basin if Germany delivers less than 6,000,000 tons of coal before November. Premier De La Croix of Belgium, said that Germany must give a final decision before the day is over.

Would Develop Mango As Commercial Fruit

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Development of the mango as a commercial fruit is being taken up by experts in the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The East India mango is one of the great fruits of the world, according to the department. "To those who have really tasted the good sorts of it the peach loses its place of honor."

In the early days of European settlement in the United States the mango was given a "black eye." Early travelers were more anxious to describe its peculiarities than its virtues.

Today the mangoes are worth about twenty-five cents apiece. It is being developed and will become one of the foremost fruits of Southern Florida, according to the Agricultural Department.

There are now fruiting at the Department Plant Instruction Field station at Miami, Fla., about twenty varieties of mangoes which are selections from about seventy varieties.

LOS ANGELES IS ENTERTAINED BY REAL THRILLER

LOS ANGELES, July 16.—A severe earthquake shook Los Angeles this morning at 10:08.

The tremor, which was the hardest shock felt here in years, according to those who felt it, came like the sharp jar of a terrific explosion. Buildings were shaken and jarred from foundations to roof. Thousands of people in the downtown skyscrapers dashed for the elevators and stairs and poured into the street.

For a moment the city was in confusion but realization that no damage was done and that danger was past restored order.

The tremor was peculiar in that it was not felt outside of a zone of a few miles, according to best available reports. Pomona and Ontario, San Diego and other cities felt no trace of the shock, and the suburban towns which experienced the quake reported that no damage resulted.

Telephone and telephone companies reported no damage to their wires and communication was interrupted. Except for a brief demoralization that resulted when telephone operators became panic and left their desks in downtown buildings to flee to the streets fearing severe shocks would follow.

According to the best check possible the shock was entirely local to Los Angeles city and none of the outlying towns were able to detect the tremor except the suburb of Inglewood, which reported that the quake was slight.

Inglewood was badly damaged by a series of tremors about a month ago. No damage resulted from today's shock, it was said.

Cop Escaped Death, But Must Pay For It

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 16.—Mounted Police Officer Everett Grimes of the Chevy Chase district will not have to make up for his own pocket the full value of the horse which was struck by lightning and killed while he was riding it on his regular beat. The authorities ruled that notwithstanding the horse was killed in the performance of duty, Grimes would have to make good the loss, but citizens of Chevy Chase who know Grimes and like him made up a purse to defray the cost of another horse. So far $80 has been raised.

Pending selection of a new mount, Grimes is riding a thoroughbred mount donated for the occasion by a well-known horse fancier of the neighborhood. Grimes was stunned by the lightning bolt which struck his horse, but was not seriously injured.

Youth Identified As $50,000 Silk Swindler

NEW YORK, July 16.—Seven messenger boys employed by silk merchants today identified according to the police, Joseph Riggi, eighteen years old, as the youth who swindled them out of rolls of silk by means of a "pocketbook game." Riggi was arrested on a charge of grand larceny, when found in company with a prospective victim.

Police had been hunting for several months for a youth with a confederate who is alleged to have swindled fifty messenger boys out of silk rolls valued at $50,000.

Says Hatred Caused Influenza Epidemic

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 16.—"The epidemic of influenza during the recent World War was the result of the feeling of hatred prevalent at that time."

This is the claim made by Anna Maud Hallam, lecturing here. She advocated the use of applied practical psychology as a cure for illness. "Disease is caused by restrictions on the subconscious mind, resulting from destructive emotions," she declared.

"Closer attention should be paid to the emotions which build up the mind and react similarly on the body. This is the key to happiness in life."

The wearing of mourning for the dead is an advertisement of grief which brings sorrow close to others, she said. She urged that more attention be paid to the effect of heredity, prenatal and postnatal influences on the body.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The total population of the United States will be announced about September 1, according to a statement given out by Dr. Joseph Hill, chief statistician of the census bureau. He said that during the intervening period population figures for all the towns, cities, counties and states in the country will be made public. The agricultural census will not be completed until after the population census, while the census of manufactures will follow that of agriculture.

The bureau has decided that detailed statistics covering the number of persons of different nationalities residing in the United States will not be made public until next year.

Heat Causes The Death Of Danville Man, Cutting Wheat

DANVILLE, July 16.—Thomas Shaw was found dead Wednesday afternoon in a wheat field at his home, two miles south of here, by his daughter, Miss Hazel Shaw.

Mr. Shaw had apparently been in the best of health and had been seen cutting wheat at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, but when he failed to appear for supper in the evening his daughter went to the field where she found her father dead beside the binder. A cerebral hemorrhage, caused by the heat, was thought to have been the cause of his death.

Mr. Shaw leaves his wife and three daughters, Miss Hazel at home, Mrs. Vincent Ralston of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Cochran of Warsaw.

The funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Methodist church, the Rev. J. H. DuHadway officiating. Burial was made in the Workman cemetery.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcline mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished. It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffing, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and sniff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy. Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

WALTER JOHNSON'S NO-HIT PITCHING FEAT ADDS TO A TRULY GREAT PITCHING CAREER

Walter Johnson.

When Walter Johnson the other day in his unassuming manner record of 313 men in 1919.

LEPROSY CURE BELIEVED FOUND; TWO ARE "CLEAN"

WOMAN SAYS SHE TOOK PART IN 3 HOLD-UPS ONE A CUTTING AFFAIR

COLUMBUS, July 17.—That she took part in three holdups within the past three weeks and was one of three women who stabbed Samuel Pickens, 45, North Market Master, here this week is the claim the police make today against Mrs. Hazel Mack, 27, colored, who was placed under arrest.

Pickens condition is serious. Confined in a hospital, he is suffering from five wounds. One pierced his right lung and another entered his abdomen. The women robbed him of $47 before stabbing him.

Wants Bryan And Billy Sunday On Prohibition Ticket

LINCOLN, Neb., July 17.—Plans for the national prohibition convention, which meets here Wednesday to nominate candidates for president and vice president, were going forward today.

W. G. Calderwood, of Minneapolis, vice chairman of the national committee, was on the scene to assist in perfecting local arrangements.

"This will be the greatest campaign in the history of the party," declared Calderwood, for three very apt reasons.

"First: Both old parties were so afraid of losing a vote that neither dared to declare for any political principles. They have used vague, ambiguous words with which to studiously say nothing.

"Secondly: prohibition, which has as yet no adequate chance to demonstrate its benefits, has no enforcement machinery and there is an organized effort to discredit the law.

"Finally prohibition is the only really live issue."

When asked about the ticket Calderwood said that while many nominees were being talked of, he would be satisfied only with Wm. J. Bryan and William (Billy) Sunday.

George's Tonsils Hurt; Wife Is Given Divorce

AKRON, O., July 17.—Tonsillitis was the basis for a local divorce suit. Lottie and George Scott lived together here from evening until morning when married in October three years ago.

The morning after their wedding George, it is claimed, joined the army and went overseas. Enlisting as a single man, he deprived Lottie of her allotment.

When George returned some months ago, Lottie went to see him.

"Ain't you going to call on me?" she asked.

"No," replied George, "I've got tonsillitis."

And he never did call on Lottie again. So Common Pleas Judge Ahern granted her request for a divorce.

Children's Home Inmates Guests At Big Circus

DOVER, July 17.—Thru Mayor Walter H. Scheu, 38 girls and 25 boys who are residents at the children's home, saw the circus.

The children were enabled by the circus management to inspect the menageries before anybody else was allowed in the animal tent.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kelly, superintendent and matron of the home and four attendants also were at the show accompanying the children.

With Mr. Kelly, the young folks visited the animal cages.

In the big tent the children were given good seats.

Still Fighting

LONDON, July 17.—Russian Bolshevik troops have advanced 35 miles southwest of Minsk occupying several villages, said a Soviet war office communique wireless from Moscow today.

"After fierce fighting in the region of Smorgon we occupied Soly."

The foregoing cablegram makes it evident that no armistice has yet been concluded on the Russo-Polish battlefield despite the efforts of the allies.

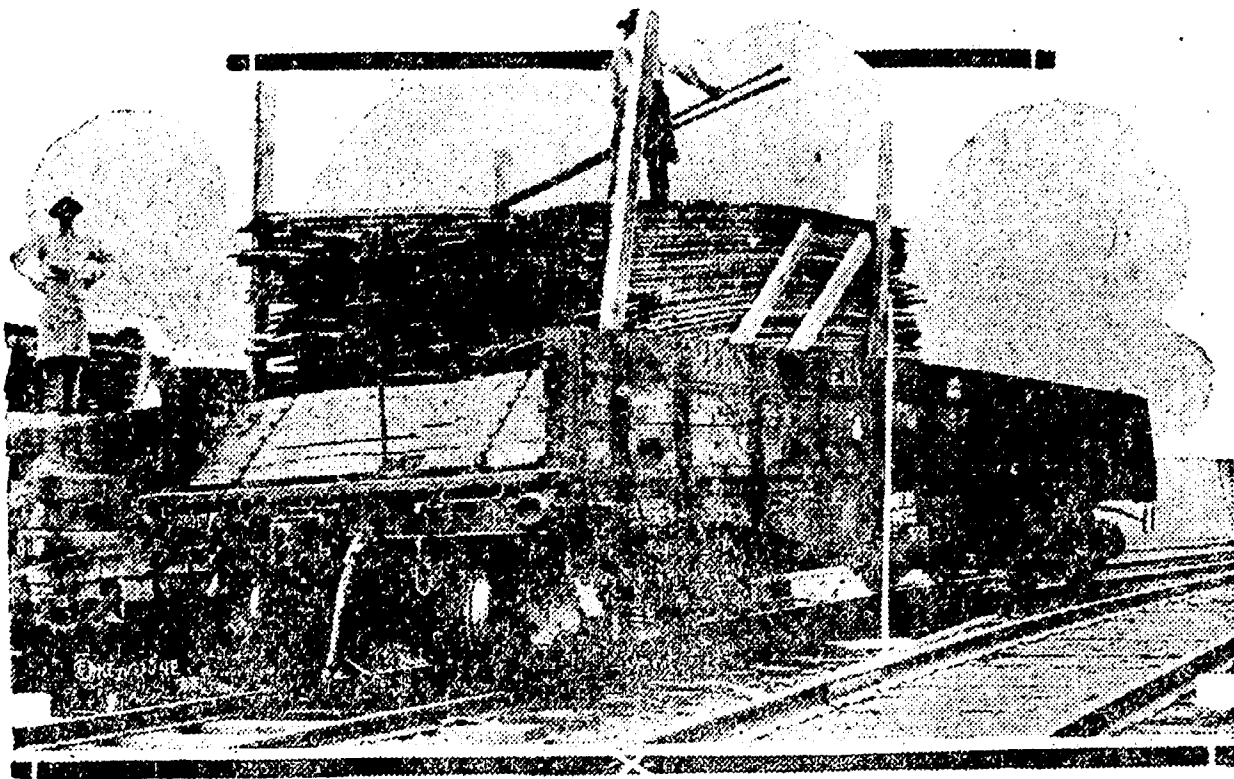

Fair For Races

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Fair weather, with gentle and changeable winds off Sandy Hook today was the special forecast of the United States weather bureau for the international yacht races today.

COAL CARS ARE SCARCE; HERE'S ONE REASON WHY

Loading lumber on a coal car at Cincinnati.

According to late dispatches the scarcity of coal cars is likely to result in a coal famine this winter. Here's one reason why coal cars are scarce. The photo was taken at a Cincinnati planing mill, where coal cars are being loaded with lumber, in direct violation of a ruling of the interstate commerce commission. There is no scarcity of mined coal, operators say.

Two-Thirds of Canada's Forests Are Destroyed In Seventy-Five Years

OTTAWA, ONT., July 17.—Two-thirds of Canada's forests have been destroyed by fire in the last seventy-five years, according to figures of the forestry department. The amount of timber burned would have supplied the world for 450 years at the present rate of consumption and represents a loss of one thousand million dollars.

Canada still has 1,900,000 square miles of forests. The forests of British Columbia constitute one of the two greatest tracts of commercial timber left in the world. The other is in Russia. With anarchy in Russia, British Columbia has become the world's chief source of timber supply. Some of the largest sawmills in the world are located along the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

American Troops Go In

LONDON, July 17.—American troops that were sent to reinforce the garrisons at Long-Shan and Liech-Wang-Tao, where a number of American families are spending the summer as a result of the activity of Chinese rebel bands in that district, said an exchange telegraph dispatch from Tien Tsin today. Fighting between the rebels and the Chinese government troops has been confined to skirmishing so far the dispatch added.

"Hot Dogs" Go Good

NEW YORK, July 17.—How much can be made in the frankfurter business at Coney became known when Mrs. Rachel Larcach, who lives in a bungalow at Coney Island, asked $75 a week alimony of her husband, Elie Larcach, who sells "hot dogs" at the resort.

But, My Dears, Bossie Is a Cousin of Billy

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 17.—It is generally believed that the goat is the only animal addicted to a wearing apparel diet. A party of young women who, tempted by the warm weather, enjoyed a swim in the Winnepesaukee River, at Tilton, are entertaining a different opinion since their wearing apparel, left on the bank, was for the greater part devoured by a cow.

Bossie left them scarcely a ribbon and they were some distance from home. Finally a small boy, who had been induced to go to the village and procure clothing to cover them sufficiently to permit the trip home.

Finds Spy's Glove

DECATUR, ILL., July 17.—H. von Doehman, Washash pondhouse employee, found an old glove while watching firemen fight a blaze in the Washash shops here. Attracted by the peculiar sewing, he ripped it apart and found two maps of the fortifications of Amiens, France. The drawing was on tracing muslin and the maps were encased in oil cloth and sewed between two layers of leather. The maps are that of German war maps of the world war. Who the glove belonged to or how it happened to be where it was could not be learned.

PASTOR WHO RAISED DOGS IN THE CHURCH IS ARRESTED

NEW YORK, July 17.—The Rev. Dr. John Buddis, colored, was held in $200 bail when arraigned in Flatbush court Brooklyn. He was ousted by the board of trustees of the Jones African Methodist Episcopal Zion church, of which he was pastor, because the board objected to his raising dogs on the church premises.

The pastor came back to the church and, it is alleged, gained entrance by breaking locks on the door. He has been there ever since.

MEREDITH AND DREW ARE NOT DEAD ONES IN OLYMPIC TRYOUT AS THEY SOON SHOW

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 17.—With a capacity crowd, drawn from all sections of the country, cramming all available space at the Harvard stadium, the final events in the great Olympic tryout meet were to be staged today. Weather conditions were ideal.

But few upsets marked the preliminary events.

The failure of Meehan of Meadowbrook Club, Philadelphia, to qualify in the half mile run; the elimination of Harold Leever of Pennsylvania from the 100 yard dash and the shutting out of Bob Maxam, another Pennsylvanian, in the trials of the quarter mile dash proved the chiefest disappointments, but all of them were made up for by the unlooked for accomplishments of two supposedly broken men who evidenced a surprising return to form and are appearing today in the finals of their respective events.

The two are Ted Meredith of the New York A. C., one time unbeatable middle distance star and holder of three world's records; and Howard Drew of Drake university, one time king of sprinters and joint possessor of the existing records in the century and furlong sprints.

Ted Meredith, by a display of infinite gameness not only qualified but won his heat in the 440 yard dash trials and gave every indication of forcing issues with his competitors in the final of that event today, while Howard Drew, who was a winner of his 100 yard and 200 yard heats finished second in both and gave evidence of a surprising return to his old time form.

Teach Resigns

COLUMBUS, July 17.—After serving five years, C. H. Teach, Columbus, has resigned as chief clerk in the office of Vernon F. Riegel, state superintendent of public instruction. The resignation is effective August 15. Mr. Teach plans to return to the teaching profession. During next year he will serve in a supervisory capacity. His successor has not been announced.

Everyone Is Going

MANSFIELD, July 17.—In airplane, automobile and on the railroad, Republican county Republicans will travel to Marion on July 31. The day, which will be observed in Marion as Richard County Day, will mark the first delegation to formally visit and congratulate Senator Harding, Republican presidential nominee.

Shorn of Her Locks, Annie Gets Divorce

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 17.—Annie Miller testified in the Court of Domestic Relations that her husband, John H. Miller, sneaked up behind her and cut off her hair so that she would have bangs and look more attractive. Then, she said, he laughed at her and said she looked "like a mule or an old cow." The court would not allow her to go further. She was granted a divorce.

WOBBLY EARS AND FLAT ONES ARE A GOOD COMBINATION

AKRON, O., July 17.—Would you know whether newlyweds are going to be happy? Look at their ears.

This advice is given by William Woodbridge, local marriage license clerk.

Listen to the Woodbridge dope: "Ears that wiggle denote versatility."

"They should be coupled with the small, flat, domestic ear, which lies close to the head and which can listen to the same jokes year in and year out, or to a slide trombone practised four hours at a time, without quivering."

"Ears which are not mates denote complexity of disposition."

"This complexity is most likely to manifest itself in a preference for meddling the neighbors' chicken coops rather than hoeing its own radish bed. It will, generally, be too ill and feverish to go to church Sunday morning, but it will always miraculously recover in time to go to a baseball game Sunday afternoon. Such an ear should always be associated with what is popularly known as a deaf ear."

"Then, there is the ear which laps denotes kindness to children and stray cats and an aversion for the popular institution known as the Saturday night bath. To fulfill its mission in life it is absolutely necessary that this ear should be made up with the red, or common garden variety, which always denotes a pillar of the church and a worker in the Ladies' Aid."

Los Angeles Is Visited By Five Distinct Shocks

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 17.—Following five earthquake shocks of short duration, that vibrated under Los Angeles and immediate vicinity yesterday, the situation in the city today had resumed normal conditions.

The tremors were confined to a zone of comparatively few miles, and outlying towns and cities did not detect the disturbances, reports indicate.

In the city itself some small damage was done, too insignificant for monetary estimate of loss, according to City Building Supt. J. J. Backus. What damage there was consisted chiefly of such superficials as old chimneys falling, in securely placed cornices and tower ornaments being dislodged in the breaking of seems in brick walls. A few minor injuries resulted to persons, but these mostly were from accidents due to precipitate flight or fear.

The first vibration passed at 10:08 a. m. The second at 1:27 p. m. and the third at about 1:29, the fourth at 4:55 p. m. and the fifth at 6:13 p. m. None lasted longer than a few seconds the principal characteristic being suddenness as after a blow.

The chief effect of the tremblers was not in its material aspects, but in its psychological effects. Several thousand workers in offices and factories, chiefly women, were so nervous they did not want to return to their desks or tasks after the first quake and were excused in many instances until Monday.

Following the two succeeding shakes there was an even greater scramble to get out of buildings and in some cases entire floors were vacant with the office doors locked.

Possibly the worst damaged building in the city was the Chesapeake Inn, on north Main-st. The two chimneys dropped off, one going thru the skylight. There is a five foot crack in one of the walls and another crack an inch and a half wide in another.

Miller Reappointed

COLUMBUS, July 17.—Governor Cox has appointed John L. Miller as superintendent of the state department of public works for another year. Miller has occupied this position during the past seven years. He said that there will be no change among the officers in his department.

Expenditures in Supt. Miller's department totaled $80,474.43 during the year ending June 30, last, according to Supt. Miller's annual report. Collections from leases at state lakes, etc., aggregated $215,356.49.

Drive On Vice

AKRON, July 17.—The police, judicial and health departments here have joined in a drive against commercialized vice. Instructions have been issued to officers to clean out the various red-light centers. The policy has been adopted by the municipal court of turning offenders over to the grand jury for indictment in the criminal courts instead of merely fining them. The power of quarantining venereal cases will be more stringently enforced by the health department.

Dresden Chautauqua

The annual Dresden chautauqua will open Sunday and continue for six days. The program is furnished by the Redpath bureau. Swiss bell ringers will be the opening attraction.

Hieroglyphics Say Wonderful Things About Marriage In the Stone Age

WASHINGTON, July 17.—When a Babylonian youth of 4000 years ago took a young woman in marriage, he very often stipulated in the marriage contract that the bride should wait upon her mother-in-law, or even upon another wife, according to Albert T. Clay, of the National Geographic Society, who has just finished deciphering ancient clay tablets unearthed at Nineveh and Babylon.

The Code of Hammurabi, written about 2000 B. C., upon a large and somewhat irregular stone, writes Mr. Clay, "is perhaps the most important monument of antiquity that has been found for a century. It is the product of a civilization of a high order. In no better way is it possible to become acquainted with the every day life of the ancient Babylonian than by a careful study of a Hammurabi Code."

The code recognizes three grades of society—the aristocrat, or gentleman, the poor man, or pleb, and the slave. It was the custom with most peoples of the ancient Orient to base a betrothal upon an agreement of the man or his parents to pay a sum of money to the girl's father. In Babylon this "bride money," together with the gift of the father and other gifts formed the marriage portion which was given to the bride.

In case the girl's father rejected the suitor after the contract had been made, he was required to return double the amount of the bride price. The betrothal took place usually when the parties were young, and as a rule the engagements were made by the parents. If the father died before all of the sons were married, when the estate was divided the sums needed for those not having wives were deducted before the distribution was made.

A marriage contract was necessary to make a marriage legal and in some peculiar conditions were made. If it was stipulated that the man should not take a second wife, the woman could secure a divorce, if the husband broke the agreement.

The Code of Hammurabi fixed the charges of physicians and surgeons. If a physician "cured a broken limb or healed a diseased bowel" his fee from the gentry was fixed at five shekels; from the commoner three, and from the slave two. The surgeon for an operation upon the upper class received 10 shekels, the lower five, and a slave two.

In order to discourage the surgeon from making rash operations, severe penalties were fixed in case of unsuccessful results. If the patient died the surgeon's hands were cut off. In case of a slave, he had to replace him with one of equal value. If the slave's eye was lost the physician had to pay half the value of the slave.

Fell Down Stairs, Skull Fractured

NEWARK, July 17.—John Dally of Peru, Ind., attending the Phi Delta Kappa national convention here plunged down a stairway at Buckeye Lake late Wednesday night. His skull was fractured.

Lightning had burned out electric light wires and the place was in darkness.

"Schooner" Was Ample Evidence of Its Age

WASHINGTON, July 17.—A postcard mailed in Wildwood, N. J., on August 7, 1907, was 13 years reaching its destination in Philadelphia, and the police of the Eighteenth District there have asked the post office department to explain.

The card, sent by an anonymous person, is addressed to Thomas Smith, an Eighteenth District policeman who died about five years ago. It bears the picture of a girl sitting on a huge schooner of beer.

Wanted Water, But Got Oil Instead

HUME, MO., July 17.—J. G. Holland, a farmer living near here, received rather a pleasing shock the other day when he went to water his stock.

A water well dug on his place nearly a year ago gave off a steady stream of crude oil as he worked the pump lever. The well is 200 feet deep and is the only one in this vicinity thus far to show a disposition to change the nature of its liquid.

ATTA BOY, LAFE!

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., July 17.—The high cost of living holds no terrors for Lafayette Lee, negro, eighty-nine. Lee, already a father to thirty-two children by former wives, is married again.

Lee, born in Mississippi in slavery, is, like many ex-slaves, "spry" for his age. His latest "better half," Nancy Sims, is past 60 years old.
